Background

Pursuant to Resolution No. 2012-038 dated June 12, 2012, the Board of Trustees delegated to the Charter Schools Committee the authority to approve or deny applications to establish new charter school education corporations, and applications by existing education corporations for authority to operate additional schools.

The New York Charter Schools Act of 1998 (as amended, the “Act”) permits new charters to be issued through requests for proposals (“RFPs”). Only the Board of Trustees and the New York State Board of Regents may issue RFPs. In 2015, amendments to the Act increased the cap on the number of charter schools to 460 charters with new RFP charters to be located in New York City limited to 50 regardless of chartering entity. (Twenty-two previously issued charters may be reissued and such reissuance shall not be counted toward the numerical limits). Prior to the date of approval of this resolution, 118 charters could be issued through a RFP process by either the Board of Trustees or the Board of Regents, with 34 of the 50 New York City charters previously issued.

The State University of New York Charter Schools Institute (the “Institute”) released and broadly distributed a draft RFP for public comment on November 10, 2017, and posted a document detailing its evaluation and response to public comments on January 2, 2018 with the release of the RFP. The Institute received the proposals to be approved by this resolution by the due date, and then reviewed, scored (in accordance with a rubric required to be developed pursuant to Subdivision 2852(9-a)(c)) and ranked them.

Prior to recommending the proposed charter schools for approval, the Institute, acting on behalf of the Board of Trustees, conducted a rigorous review of the proposals and published its findings and recommendations in a Summary of Findings and Recommendations (copy on file in the Office of the Secretary of the University and in the Albany office of the Institute, and available at: http://www.suny.edu/Board_of_Trustees/meetingnotices.cfm), which was made available to the Board of Trustees.

For the proposal listed above, the Institute, pursuant to New York Education Law § 2857(1), notified the school district in which the charter schools propose to be located as well as public and non-public schools in the same geographic area of the schools regarding the receipt of the application for a new schools (copy on file in the Albany Office of the Institute). As of May 16, 2018, the Board of Trustees received no district comments.
