An Appendix E: Disclosure of Financial Interest Form must be completed for each active Trustee who served on the charter school's Board of Trustees during the 2013-14 school year. Trustees are at times difficult to track down in the summer months. Trustees may complete and submit at their leisure (but before the deadline) their individual form at:

<http://fluidsurveys.com/surveys/vickie-smith/appendix-e-trustee-disclosure-form/>. Trustees may download and/or email their forms to you upon completion.

Trustees who are technologically advanced may complete the survey using their smartphones or other mobile devices by downloading the this bar code link to the survey <https://fluidsurveys.com/account/surveys/540612/publish/qrcode/>. (Make sure you have the bar code application reader on your phone).

If a Trustee is unable to complete the form by the deadline (i.e, out of the country), the school is responsible for submitting the information required on the form for that individual trustee.

Just send the links via email today to your Trustees requesting that they each complete their form as soon as possible.
Thank you.

Appendix H: Enrollment and Retention Efforts
2013-2014

Overview of Attraction and Retention Efforts

In the 2013 - 2014 academic year, NRCS made significant efforts, both broad and targeted, to attract and retain a greater enrollment of students with disabilities, English language learners, and students who are eligible applicants for the free and reduced price lunch program.

General Attraction Efforts:

Our school reaches out to a diverse range of students, families, professionals and other community members in our region, using a wide variety of means, to make them aware of our school as an educational choice for themselves or others who they may be connected with. Examples of our outreach efforts include:

- developing and placing print ads in local media outlets, event programs, at the mall on food court tables, at our regional airport
- creating radio ad campaigns featuring diverse student testimonials
- direct mailing to families in our target demographic and professionals working with youth and families
- setting up/staffing informational/interactive learning tables at community events and festivals
- writing and sending press releases about school events and student accomplishments to local media
- updating and developing our school website and Facebook page
- arranging for NRCS to participate in/have a presence at key meetings and coalitions in the region
- recruiting and supporting staff, interns and volunteers from diverse backgrounds to create a more welcoming environment for our students
- connecting with community organizations, guest speakers, events, contests and other opportunities that serve students from diverse backgrounds
- developing outreach materials such as yearbooks, newsletters, online videos, and a school profile that demonstrate our school's commitment in this arena
- holding free concerts, parent workshops, showcases, open houses and information sessions that are open to the public
- regularly sending outreach materials to regional school personnel via mail and email
- posting informational posters and outreach materials on bulletin boards and in brochure racks in the region
- hosting school administrators from regional schools to visit and tour our school
- school-wide campaign to encourage our students to invite their friends to explore NRCS as an option

General Retention Efforts:

- We have established a school climate that is inclusive, welcoming and supportive of all students. Bullying or harassment is not tolerated, and we have seen our persistent efforts to build a positive school community take form in the respectful and embracing way our students relate to each other and embrace each other's differences and individuality. We held an all school assembly in September, co-facilitated by students from the New Roots Student Orientation Team and student council in which students gave testimonials about having been bullied in the past and they discussed the role of the bystander. We plan on holding a similar event on October 1st, 2014 with a showing of the film, "Easy Prey" to our 11th and 12th graders and a training on advocating against bullying for our 9th and 10th grade students.
- Teachers and staff are hired who share our values of inclusiveness. They work diligently to differentiate instruction in the classroom, and to stay after school to work one-on-one with students who are struggling. We act quickly to provide targeted special education and academic intervention support to those students needing support. We have provided adaptive P.E. and One on One Aids to students with disabilities.
- We provide fresh, healthful home-cooked meals each day that are offered at free or reduced prices for those meeting national free and reduced lunch criteria. Our Principal is a member of the Equity Inclusion Leadership Council, working together with local schools and organizations in the region to continually work toward ensuring that all young people have access to education that meets their needs. We are persistent in our efforts to communicate and involve families, particularly hard-to-reach families – going way beyond what a typical high school offers (parent-teacher conferences, advisory groups, multiple opportunities for parent learning, socializing, and showcasing student work). Additionally, a member of our Student Support Team has a close working relationship with our local foster care system and other organizations that serve homeless youth. Through these connections a number of students who would have otherwise dropped out of school or been underserved in home districts have received individualized attention and support.
- We ensure that our curriculum represents diverse viewpoints and features works by authors, artists and historical figures from diverse backgrounds. We offer clubs and extra-curricular activities that appeal to a wide range of students, from hip-hop dance to chess to basketball. We conduct morale-building grade-level meetings and regular surveys to make sure all student voices are heard, and celebrate the accomplishments of all students through recognition ceremonies that highlight their own unique talents and contributions to the school.

Additional programs that contribute to retention of students

Breakfast Program: Inspired by the Black Panther Free Breakfast Program, the NRCS Breakfast Program is run by staff of color for our students of color. The program provides a hot breakfast of local foods, positive fellowship and cultural education and empowerment to NRCS students of color. This group also worked together to coordinate a Black History Month school assembly. Students and staff of color find common ground, provoke discussion, and instill cultural pride while breaking bread together. This program runs for a half hour every Mon through Thursday morning.

Literacy coaching: This year a group of 25 Ithaca College students in the 'Literacy for Middle/Secondary School Teachers' partnered with 25 of our students who have the lowest levels of literacy for one-on-one coaching.

New Student Orientation Team: This student initiative, supported by NRCS staff meets weekly to plan, prepare and execute strategies for orienting new students both at the beginning and throughout the school year. Their primary goal is to help new students adjust as they transition into our school community.

Low-income NRCS students accessing a free, high-quality SAT prep program taught by Cornell University students.

The design and planning of a week long immersion program/personal empowerment conference that took place during our school's Winter/Spring intercession week for students at risk of not succeeding. This experience incorporated inspirational speakers and workshops with visits to a prison and local colleges, and time for reflection and goal-setting. Student evaluations and reports from presenters demonstrate that this was a powerful learning experience for all involved.

Supervised NRCS student volunteers who provide tutoring and mentoring on a weekly basis to students at BJM. NRCS students receive academic "service-learning" credit for their efforts.

Examples of targeted efforts to attract English language learners:

- NRCS students, make regular visits to our local adult ESOL program, which is located one block from our school. New Roots students provide English conversation to ESL students from around the world and last year we had two student internships with ESL instructors. The New Roots Community Outreach Coordinator works with the ESL program staff promoting the school to parents of potential students from the ESL program. We plan to continue this work in 2014-2015.

*Note about retention of English language learners:

- When families of a beginning English language learners inquire about attending NRCS, our Dean of Students confers with our regional ELL coordinator, who has consistently informed us that in order for students to receive ELL instruction, they would need to attend Ithaca High School, the regional provider of ELL services for high school students. In this region we have a small percentage of English Language Learners, so the decision was made at some point in the past to consolidate these services there. Due to our school size and limited demand for ELL services at this time, it is not practical for us to provide these services. That said, we have an enrolling 9th grade student from Ecuador whose family is relocating to Ithaca, NY. We do not know if she will require ESL services.

Examples of targeted efforts to attract students eligible for free and reduced price lunch:

Note: On BEDS day in October 2013, 51% of NRCS students qualified for free lunch and 6% of students qualified for reduced lunch. The total, 57% of students qualifying for Free and Reduced Lunch increased 7% from the previous 2013-2014 school year. According to the High-School.com website<sup>1</sup> the percentage of NRCS students with Free and Reduced lunch in June 2013 was 19% higher than that of the Ithaca and Dryden City School Districts which were the home districts of a total 58% of the New Roots student body. The NYSED School Report Card for 2012 – 2013 reported 53% students with economic disadvantages at NRCS compared to 29% at the neighboring district's Ithaca Senior High School.

- We have developed close working relationships with several organizations in the region who work with low-income youth and families, including the Greater Ithaca Activities Center (GIAC), Planned Parenthood, the Advocacy Center, Youth Employment Service, the Learning Web, Dorothy Cotton Institute, Cornell Cooperative Extension, Village at Ithaca, the Multicultural Resource Center, the Worker's Center, Loaves and Fishes, Bridges for Youth and Families, Family and Children's

Service, the Ithaca Youth Bureau, Tompkins Workforce NY and the Southside Community Center. Many of our students have been referred to us through representatives of these groups.

- To strengthen our connection with these organizations, we have invited them to set up informational tables on a regular basis in our cafeteria, our students have conducted service projects (e.g. volunteered at the MLK Community breakfast, GIAC Harvest Feast), done internships (e.g. GIAC afterschool program), set up activity tables (e.g. Southside Community Center's Congo Square Market) and done music and dance performances in collaboration with these organizations (e.g. GIAC Black History Month Talent Show) that reach middle- and high-school age audiences, parents and youthworkers. The GIAC Conservation Corps, a group of 15 middle school-age students, came for an interactive workshop on Education for Sustainability with two of our teachers. This program has run for two consecutive years and hope to continue working with GIAC to reach new students.
- We have become known in the local community, through word of mouth, for our strong Student Support services and intensive, Individualized Academic Support we provide and the high level of caring and individual support that our students receive compared to other schools. Many parents living with low incomes, as well as students have commented that they would have fallen through the cracks in another school setting and that they have been able to be successful here. Our staff members have been known to do outreach to kids who are not enrolled in school at all, who are out on the street during the school day.
- NRCS has a well establish Farm To School Program that attracts students from rural and urban communities interested in learning more about growing food. The program offers students' access to garden plots, cooking classes, integrated curriculum on sustainable agriculture and the economics of local food systems. Our staff prepares food demos in the lobby of the school, in which students learn to appreciate new, healthy foods. We also table at and participate in local food summits and festivals focused on supporting local farms and local food markets.
- Cayuga Addiction Recovery Services (CARS) grant: NRCS received a grant from CARS to increase family resiliency. The funds are being used to host family gatherings, and to help communicate with and to transport low-income families to school functions. Many low-income families have no means of transportation and unreliable access to communication (telephone and internet) preventing them from participating in school-wide events. For this year's End-of-the-Year school picnic, NRCS used funds to reach out to individual families and to transport families to and from the event.

Examples of targeted efforts to attract students with disabilities:

Note: According to a NRCS Schooltool report, on BEDS day, 2013 24% of the NRCS student body had IEPs and 7% had 504 plans, totaling 31%. Compared to the 2012 Schooltool BEDS day report, there was a 3% increase of students with IEPs and 504 plans. According to the 2013 NYSED Report Card 14% of the Ithaca Senior High School student body were "Students with Disabilities" which includes students with IEPs and 504 plans. The 2013 NYSED report for NRCS indicates 20% of NRCS students were "Students with Disabilities". Despite the discrepancy in reporting, the percentage of students with disabilities is significantly higher at NRCS than the neighboring district high school.

- Our Special Education teachers and Dean of Students have developed positive working relationships with the Committee on Special Education (CSE) chairs from each school district from which we have students with Individual Education Plans (IEP). Some of these folks have encouraged students in their districts whose needs are not being met well to explore enrolling at NRCS.

- During the 2013-2014 school year the NRCS special education team implemented a co-teaching model for students, so that they receive services within the general education setting. Under the guidance of our Associate Principal we have put systems in place for more routine goal monitoring in our school's Resource Room. We have created systems to monitor students' accommodations during testing and designed or changed IEPs accordingly. Lastly we have created and implemented successful Behavior Improvement Plans for students transitioning out of more restrictive environments into New NRCS.

AmeriCorps Vista volunteers

New Roots has two VISTA members working in student support positions that will carry through to the 2013-2014 school year. Their primary objective has been to help establish a sustainable program that will optimize the school's ability to connect with and adequately support our underserved students and their families, to create academic support programs targeted to the needs of low-income youth, and to lay the groundwork for our Farm-to-School program. Our VISTA members have continued to help us make significant progress toward this goal, both when carrying out their official VISTA duties, as well as during in-between-times through interactions with students, families and organizations in the larger community. Some of the most significant contributions made so far by our VISTAs include:

- Groups of students accompanied by our VISTA to enrichment activities at local colleges (e.g. plays at Ithaca College, visit to Wells College, a tour of the campuses of the local community college TC3 and Ithaca College, trips to the Johnson Art Museum at Cornell.
- Through volunteer coordination activities, VISTA members have recruited, oriented and placed volunteer tutors and mentors in our classrooms and into one-one relationships with students and supervised group volunteer opportunities in the larger community.
- Our Academic Support VISTA provides close guidance to a small student group that is further developing our school's college scholarship program and encourages and celebrates college acceptances by honoring students with a visual display with their photo and name of school they have been accepted to in the school's front window as each is accepted to college.
- Supported a student initiative called the College and Career Club which meet once a week to address student questions about college and career life.
- Supervised students in "Grad Point" a program that helps students recover credits.
- Established a close relationship with an English professor at Ithaca College that will provide New Roots with students to volunteers to provide one-one tutoring or as class aids.

Food Security and Healthy Food Choices:

In the 2013-2014 school year, the NRCS Farm-to-School VISTA has:

- Established a program called "Free Food Friday" in which a parent volunteer picks up boxes of fresh and healthy foods from a local food pantry and delivers them to the school. The program was inspired by school backpack or food pantry programs but is different in its means of delivery. To increase access to food and to decrease any possible stigma associated with accepting free food we place the donated foods on a table in the lobby at the end of the day on Friday, making them available to all students. We plan on continuing and possibly expanding this highly effective program to accommodate our increasing number of economically disadvantaged students.

- Secured and co-led a course (in collaboration with community partners) that involves the preparation of a garden plot where students learn gardening and construction skills. The plot provides fresh vegetables and fruit for our school lunch program.
- Performed monthly cooking demos/tastings of healthy local foods in our school lobby during morning arrival hours.
- Co-facilitated a local food-shed elective class with students.
- Staffed an outreach/info table at Open Houses featuring an interactive snack-making demo comparing local apples and taste testing with smoothies and fermented foods.
- Walked with the Food Shed and the PE classes to local gardens to volunteer.
- Established an educational bulletin board in the school for students to learn about nutrition and farm-to-school activities.
- Organized and facilitated a Youth Farm and Food Symposium for middle school and high school students from our region, with participation of 60 students.

Family Support and Communications:

- Making extra efforts to contact hard-to reach students and parents, getting school notices and important communications to them that relate to each of their areas of specialization. This has included producing a bi-weekly newsletter for families, keeping our mailing lists current to make sure that parents who are less involved in the school are kept in contact, making phone calls home, mailing hard copies of notices to those without email, and other methods when necessary.
- Conducting outreach to students and families that have increased engagement/involvement in community-based academic enrichment programs (such as SAT prep classes) and utilization of local resources provided by key organizations and community partners (such as Learning Web, Advocacy Center, Planned Parenthood, Ithaca PAVE, YES, and Bridges for Youth & Families). One of our VISTAS created a Resource Center in the school lobby (which we keep well-stocked) that is chock-full of useful printed materials on a range of important issues, and our VISTAS have organized tabling opportunities for local organizations during lunch, before and after-school times.
- In the 2013-2014 school year, the Community Outreach Coordinator organized Parent/Caregiver Student Organization, acting as a liaison between families and school staff, and helping solve problems that arise. This is an area that we plan to have a VISTA member focus more attention on again next year.
